Big banks will lose $8.3 billion in fee income in 2012.
Guess how much savvy community banks will gain?

Some lessons of the recession are clear. Consumers want a safe place to bank, fewer fees, and meaning beyond a balance update. Small and medium-size businesses (SMBs) want easier, cheaper, better ways to operate and tighter control of cash flow. However, other lessons are not so clear. Should you close or transform underperforming branches? What about banking beyond branches? 2012 is the perfect storm of opportunity for banks with the foresight and fortitude to act. Join us for a look at the best cost-cutting and fee revenue opportunities that capitalize upon current trends in online, mobile, social, and payments channels.

Continuing Education: Attendance verification for CE credits provided upon request.
